Program Overview

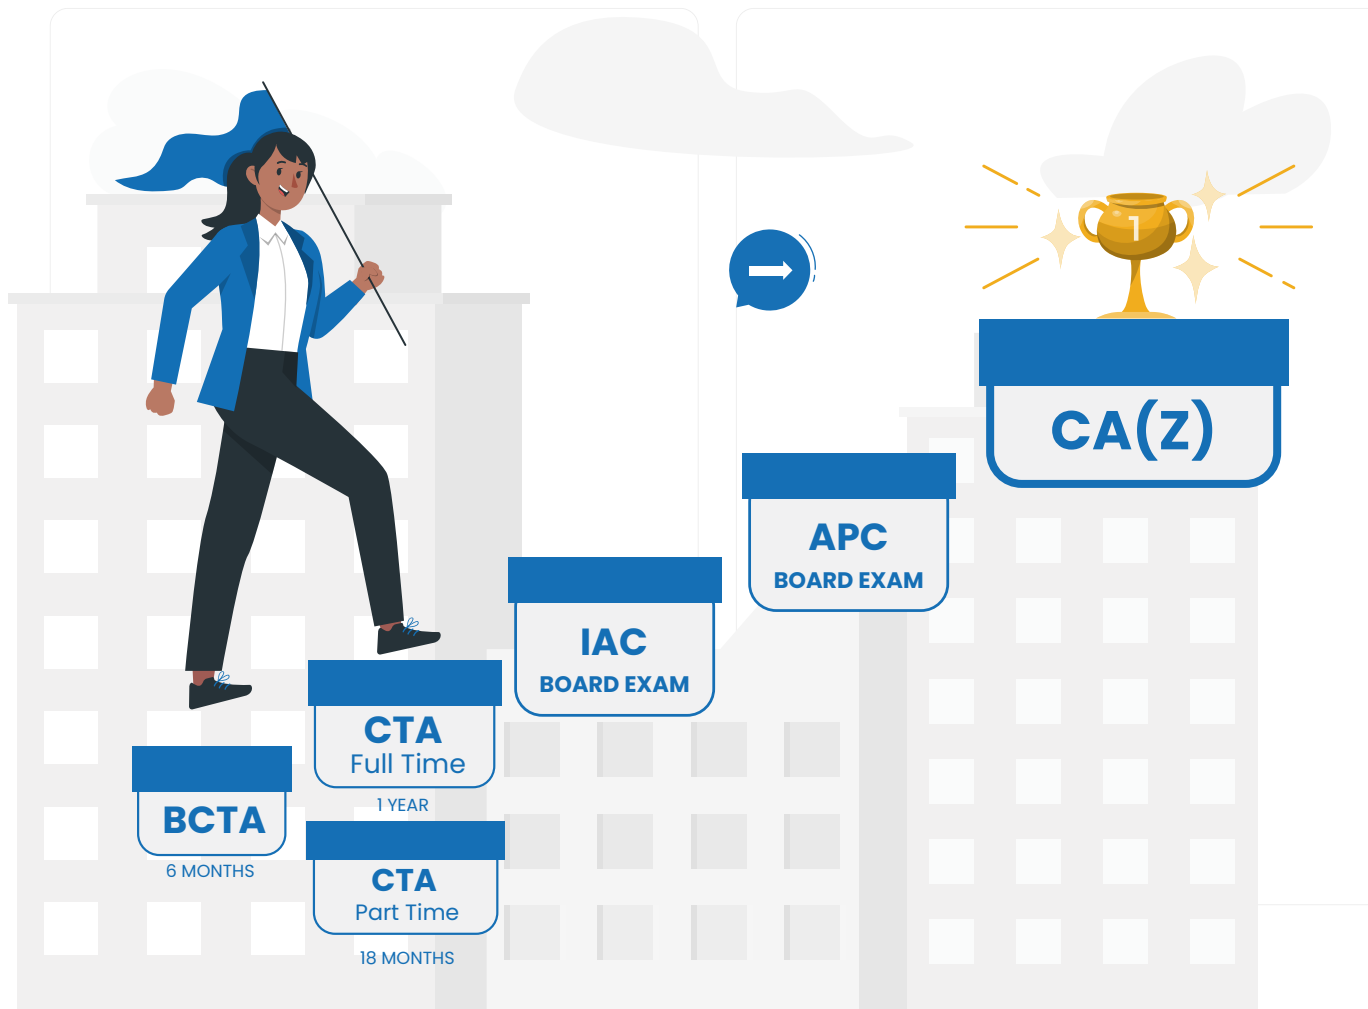

The Bridging Course to the Certificate in Theory of Accounting (BCTA) is a 6-month, program designed for individuals who either hold a non-accounting degree or possess an accounting qualification that does not meet the current minimum entry requirements for the Certificate in Theory of Accounting (CTA) program—typically due to the age of the qualification.

The BCTA program serves as a foundation for progression into the CTA, a key milestone on the path to becoming a Chartered Accountant. The program follows a blended learning structure and consists of six modules, offering both flexibility and academic rigor.

The modules

- BCTA Auditing and Governance
- BCTA Tax
- Corporate Finance
- Management and Decision making
- Financial reporting
- Group Accounting
